

The Apu Palamguwan Cultural Education Center (APC) is looking for a

AGROECOLOGY PRACTITIONER

based in Bendum, Malaybalay, Bukidnon

APC is a culture-based, Jesuit-supported organization that sustains indigenous schools in the uplands of Bukidnon, northern Mindanao, Philippines. The APC culture-based education offers three programs: K-12 education at the APC schools; Learning at the Dalēpaan: An education outside the classroom; The Forest, Farm, and Leadership at the Margins (FFLM): Learning technical skills and strengthening cultural identity. For more information about APC, please visit <http://apupalamguwancenter.essc.org.ph/>.

The Agroecology Practitioner is responsible for developing a training design for the agroecology program in the Farm School of the APC-FFLM Unit and teaching agroecology methods and practices to the youth.

Job Responsibilities:

1. Develops the appropriate training design and courses for the agroecology training component of the APC-FFLM
2. Teaches agroecology methods and practices to the youth and community members
3. Documents field activities and learnings on agroecology implementation in the Farm School of the APC-FFLM Unit
4. Ensures government training regulation requirements are met (physical facilities, tools and equipment, and number of trainers) for conducting TESDA-accredited courses in organic agriculture
5. Assists in the timely accomplishment of the requirements of accrediting institutions in the sub-national, national, and international levels

Qualifications, Experience, and Personal Qualities

- College graduate
- NC II certificate holder or NTTC holder in organic agriculture
- Experience in youth training programs and social development work, with emphasis on organic agriculture
- Can work with a multi-disciplinary team in a culture-based context
- Can work in an upland setting for extended periods of time
- Can work pro-actively and is a self-starter
- Has supervisory management skills
- Organized and systematic
- Adequate communication and writing skills in English
- Fluent in Visayan and English
- Physically, psychologically, and emotionally fit
- Has maturity and a balanced personality
- Has ability to troubleshoot
- Has commitment and vision

Qualified applicants should send their latest CV with cover letter to essc.recruitment@gmail.com.